Dear All,

I am thrilled to present to you Volume-3, Issue-1 of the peer-reviewed open-access "International Journal of Medical, Pharmaceutical, and Biological Sciences (IJMPBS)." This edition is readily available both online and in print. Within its pages, you will find a compilation of five articles covering diverse areas within the pharmaceutical and medicinal realms.

In this edition, we embark on an exploration of the development and assessment of herbal shampoos. Furthermore, this issue delves deep into the multifaceted applications of Locust Bean Gum within the pharmaceutical formulations. Additionally, we shed light on the methodologies used in the preparation of solid dispersions and their various applications, along with insights into the technological processes employed in the pharmaceutical sector.

The launch of this journal has been carefully designed to act as an invaluable resource for students, researchers, and scientists across the globe. It offers access to top-tier, peer-reviewed scientific articles, and serves as a platform for fostering connections across the entire spectrum of medical, biological, pharmaceutical sciences, and related disciplines.

I extend my heartfelt congratulations and gratitude to each of our esteemed authors for their invaluable contributions, unwavering support, and active participation in this issue. The commitment demonstrated by our dedicated editorial board members and diligent reviewers in critically evaluating the submitted manuscripts assures that we uphold the highest standards of quality. I also wish to convey my deep appreciation to all those who have visited our journal's website, encompassing our readers, researchers, students, and professionals. Your engagement is highly valued, and we eagerly look forward to your continued inspiration and support. Thank you for your steadfast commitment.

With regards,

Chief Editor,

International Journal of Medical, Pharmaceutical and Biological Sciences (IJMPBS)
